Price Five Cents

MADISON WHEAT PRICE ESTABLISHED

Farmers Receiving $2.65 a Bushel
—Threshers Getting Quarter
a Bushel This Year

Madison county farmers are receiving $2.65 per bushel for their wheat and the threshers are charging 25 cents per bushel for threshing. This is the first time in many, many years that wheat has retained at that price, farmers say, and perhaps the first time threshers have received a quarter a bushel for threshing, all of which tends towards illustrating the high prices prevailing at present.

Wheat is coming in fast now, and the yield is good. Mr. Zaring's price is 55 cents more per bushel than was paid last year. Many Madison wheat growers haven't sent their wheat to market as yet, but it is making about 22 bushels per acre on the average, and the quality is good.

Mr. Zaring says that the whole question of wheat price is that of railroad transportation. If mills in certain isolated sections can get wheat when they need it, the market will remain about where it is now, he thinks. But if some millers, who are not in wheat growing sections, have to go out and bid for it, the market is going up. He hardly thinks that the Kansas prediction of $4 wheat is at all probable.

Threshing, which has been held up on account of the rains, is progressing very extensively this week, and thousands of bushels are being delivered at the mills. The work, which threatened to be hampered by a scarcity of men for some time, resulting in the "pooling of labor," as some of the farmers term it, and work has been progressing steadily. This gives each an opportunity to have his threshing done according to contract, the exchange of hands from one farm to another being more extensively in evidence this year than ever before. It is believed that with favorable weather, the early threshing will be finished next week.

Most of the product from Madison county is graded and registered as No. 2, while there is some No. 1 wheat to be found. The acreage, which is below normal, as well as the production, shows a fine quality generally. The Zaring mills are recipient of a great quantity of wheat from the local fields these days. The hauling, which began heavy last week, was checked on account of the rain, but has been renewed. Those disposing of a part of their wheat, which has been classed as No. 2, are as follows: W. H. Parks, Long & Millington, James Neale, Taylor Bogue, C. F. Chenault and Willis Thompson.

The condition of oats and prospects for a favorable crop are said to be better than wheat, since the grain is ripening to such an extent that the oats will be ready to harvest as soon as the wheat can be disposed of. Oats is reported as being of very good quality, and the quantity is said to be greater than usual this year.

Mistaken In Location

In the public auction sale of Wm. Hensley the location was given on the corner of Main and Irvine streets, when it should read corner of Lake and Irvine streets. This is a very desirable location and is in a good neighborhood. The property will be sold rain or shine Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

TATUM GOES TO SOUTHERN LEAGUE

His friends here were interested to note that the Louisville baseball club has sent Clell Tatum, of Paint Lick, to the Mobile, Ala., team of the Southern league. Tatum has been with the Colonels all season, but needed a little more seasoning before sticking in fast company. At times he has shown flashes of remarkable ability and the Louisville manager says that he is confident that with more experience and an opportunity to work regularly Tatum will soon be ripe for the real big league. Tatum starred with the Paint Lick team last year and beat nearly all the amateur and semi-pro nines in this part of the state, and he was at once grabbed by the Louisville club.

ANOTHER PARTY IS BORN OVER NIGHT

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, July 15.—The Farmer Labor party, born of the fusion of numerous political groups, today has a platform and new candidates in the field for the coming election. Its convention at 4 o'clock this morning chose Parley Parker Christensen, a Salt Lake City attorney, and Max Shays, the Cleveland labor leader, as its presidential and vice presidential nominees, respectively.

The platform adopted by the convention demands the right of free speech, amnesty for political prisoners, the repeal of the espionage, sedition and "criminal syndicalist" laws, referendum and recall for federal judges, equal suffrage for all, and demands the withdrawal of the United States from participation under the Versailles treaty in reduction of conquered peoples to economic or political subjugation, recognition of the Irish "republic" and the "new Russian government," abolition of secret treaties, withdrawal of the United States "from dictatorship which we exercise over the Philippines, Cuba, Porto Rico, Guam and Hawaii." It also pledges to support the "league of free peoples," demand democratic control of industries, upholding labor's right for an increasing share in the management of industry, public ownership of public utilities and natural resources, immediate repeal of the Esch-Cummings railroad law, establishment of public markets, extension of the federal farm loan system and other favorable laws for farmers, advocates government economy, shifting of heavy taxes "from the poor to the rich," sharply graduated inheritance taxes for state local governments and the reduction of the cost of living.

COMPENSATION FOR DISTILLERS FAVORED

Washington, July 14.—If Warren G. Harding is elected president of the United States, distillery owners and others put out of the liquor business by the prohibition amendment will demand that he carry out a promise made in 1917 to join a movement to have them compensated for their property losses.

This information was obtained today when a statement made by Mr. Harding in the Senate during debate on the resolution to submit the 18th amendment to the states for ratification was unearthed.

August 1, 1917, Senator Harding, stating his position, said:

"I do not hesitate to say that I approach the question from a strong sense of justice, and if this amendment is submitted to the people of the United States and receives the sanction of three-fourths of the general assemblies, then, if my tenure of office still obtains, I am willing to go further and join in a movement to make it effective through a process of compensation to the business destroyed."

COLORED REPUBLICAN MAY RUN FOR JAILER

Brutus Chenault Reported To Be Urged By Friends To Demand Recognition From Party

Considerable interest was injected into local politics this week, when the statement was made by friends of Brutus Chenault, well known colored Republican leader, that they intend to run him for the Republican nomination for jailer of Madison county at the county election next year.

Chenault has been a leading worker among his race for his party for many years, and has never received any honors at its hands, and it is understood that his friends are saying that it is time that his and their work be recognized with something substantial. Chenault is understood to have the matter under serious consideration, but prominent white Republicans are authority for the announcement that he may make the race for the office. If he does, it will be the first time in all probability that a colored man ever offered for public office in Madison county.

Brutus Chenault is not only a hard worker for his party at election time, but is a good speaker. There are said to be mighty few better stump orators that he has been for the Republican party around election time. He and his friends are said to feel that his years of work for his party are due to the recognition that he may ask from it, and which it said to be the first he has ever sought.

WANT "LID" TAKEN FROM LIQUOR BLANKS

Chicago, July 15.—Coincident with the transfer of 11,000 barrels of liquor in a single haul yesterday telegrams were sent to President Wilson asking that the lid be taken off the number of prescription blanks to the physicians.

The 11,000 barrels are to be split into 140,000 cases "for medicinal purposes only," hence the messages to the president.

This is considered to be the largest transaction in liquor since the eighteenth amendment became effective. It was reported by H. L. Oberfelder, president of Albert Dallemard & company, brokers, warehouse receipts for the entire stock of the Clear Springs distillery at Bardonia, Ky., where popular brand of whisky was manufactured by Charles Dennehey & company.

The wholesale cost of the whisky by the case was $30, and the entire transaction involved approximately $4,200,000. The Schwarthaup company will sell the liquor to drug stores, where it will be sold for "medicinal purposes."

FORD TO BUILD R. R. TO KENTUCKY MINES

Detroit, Mich., July 15.—Henry Ford has purchased two coal mines in Kentucky, and is planning on joining his recently purchased railroad, the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton with these mines to assure coal for his factories.

Word to this effect reached Detroit this afternoon from M. P. Roach, president of the Logan Pocahontas Coal Company, of Cincinnati.

The two mines which Mr. Ford is said to have bought are the Banner Fork and Creek mines. These two will yield enough coal to practically assure the motor king of fuel for his plants, no matter what the condition throughout the country.

"Mr. Ford will have to build his own cars and get his own engines if he intends to make use of the railroads and mines he has purchased," said the local manager of the Logan Pocahontas Coal Co.

DENY FARMERS ARE HOLDING WHEAT

Jeff Morgan and Others Answer Charge Made By Ballard Mill Manager

Louisville, Ky., July 15.—Emphatic denial by State and County Farm Bureau officials and by farmers of statements made at the Ballard and Ballard Mills that farmers are holding wheat for $3 a bushel, forcing up the price of flour, were answered yesterday by S. Thurston Ballard, president of the mill, who mildly reiterated the charge.

Mr. Ballard declared the general impression among mills is that the present price of flour will be maintained until the middle of August or September, but that the price should be lower then.

The controversy began on Tuesday when the Ballard officials announced an increase of 60 cents a barrel in the retail price of flour, raising the price from $14 to $14.60.

Speaking for the Ballard mills, John K. McDowell, sales manager, declared that the farmers have combined to keep wheat prices up, and seek to force a price of $3 a bushel.

Mr. McDowell's statement brought denial yesterday from Geoffrey Morgan, secretary of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation; F. E. Merriman, Jefferson county federal farm agent, and Edward S. Monahan, Jr., of St. Matthews, farmer.

Each declared that charges, or insinuation, that farmers of Jefferson county have combined to maintain prices, or have pooled their grain in any form, are untrue.

Last night, Mr. Ballard, prefacing his statement by saying that Mr. McDowell's charge was "misleading," insisted that farmers throughout the country "seem disposed to hold back their wheat, and are striving to get as high a price as possible."

Mr. Ballard said the real reason for the unexpectedly high price of new cash wheat is that speculators for export, caught short with orders, often paid as much as $3.10 a bushel to fill the contracts.

Mr. Ballard said the Ballard mill is paying $2.65 a bushel, and that some farmers have refused that price. Others, also refusing that price, have stored their wheat at the Ballard mill, paying a storage fee of 2 cents a bushel a month, he said.

Mr. Monahan, who tills 400 acres, vigorously denied that farmers in Jefferson county have combined, or entered into a pool to hold wheat, and that neither he nor other farmers are getting $3 a bushel.

He declared he sold wheat Tuesday to the Ballard mill at $2.65, and that other farmers in the county have been paid only $2.65 for their grain.

"At that, we are doing better than some farmers in Indiana, who are getting only $2.50 a bushel," Monahan said.

Secretary Morgan, of the Farm Bureau, declared farm bureaus have been organized in 44 counties in the state, and that nowhere in Kentucky has any combination or pool of farmers to hold wheat been formed.

"There is no combine or pool of any sort in this state on wheat and farmers are not trying to fix prices. They ask only a fair price, determined by the market at the time they offer their grain for sale," he said.

MISS JESSIE BURRALL PLEASES AUDIENCE

Noted Worker Illustrates Manner In Which Work of Humanity Is Being Done

The churches of Richmond joined in a union prayer service at the First Baptist church last evening which proved to be one of unusual power and spiritual uplift.

After a brief devotional service the pastor introduced Miss Jessie L. Burrall, of the National Geographical Society, Washington, who is here delivering a series of lectures at the Eastern Normal School.

Miss Burrall's subject was: "Christianity in Action," and as a practical illustration of her theme she gave an account of the way in which her Sunday school class of 1,500 girls had been built up in the Calvary Baptist church, Washington. She told of some of the opposition she met from some of the most prominent members of the church when it was proposed that a class be organized to take care of the young ladies in Washington, especially those who had come to the city to do war work. But with a woman's pluck, patience and persistence the class was organized with six young ladies, and although only two and a half years old the class has grown to 1,500. The story of the growth of this class was thrilling from beginning to end. She said that the girls came, to use her own words, "because we liked them."

Miss Burrall told many interesting stories of the religious experience of the members of her class, many of whom have been baptized and received into the churches of the city. Seventeen denominations belong to the class and while Miss Burrall is a Baptist she always encourages the young ladies to join the church of their choice, preferably the one to which their parents belong.

The history of the class organization was most interesting. The city is divided into twelve sections or groups and a captain is appointed over each group. Strangers, absentees and the sick are looked after with sympathetic care and loving devotion. Miss Burrall gave testimony to the remarkable statement that there never was a time in the history of our country when there was such a hungering for real spiritual values and when people responded more readily to religious effort of the right sort.

Miss Burrall is a speaker of unusual force and all her utterances are characterized by a sincerity and a spiritual fervor which brings the messages to the heart of her hearers. She assured her audience that the same methods would produce marvelous results in the churches of Richmond.

ANNUAL VISIT IS MADE TO INFIRMARY

By Fiscal Court and Others—Conditions Reported To Be Very Satisfactory There

The annual visit to the Madison county infirmary by members of Fiscal Court was made Wednesday, the party departing shortly before noon for Union City, where they spent the most of a day enjoying a bountiful dinner in inspecting the premises.

While the party was a big one, comprising a number of especially invited friends, Mr. and Mrs. Levert Roberts, who have the institution in charge, telephoned to Richmond at an early hour that they would have an ample supply of food, and many who recognized the culinary attainments of Mrs. Roberts, were "hungry" to make the trip.

It is said that an inspection of the property found it all in a very satisfactory condition, much the same report being made as was tendered some time ago by the grand jury, in its regular inspection. A committee was appointed to go to the institution which they did and reported that conditions, especially from a sanitary standpoint, could not be improved upon.

The party Wednesday was comprised of the following:

County Judge W. K. Price, Esquires Joseph Long, L. T. Wilson, D. J. Williams, Luther Todd, and Arbor Dunbar, for fourteen years receiver for the institution, Cash Roberts, former keeper of the infirmary, former Esquire Alex Black, and Dr. H. G. Sandlin.

An echo of war days is a suit filed by Theodore H. Kirk, tobaccoist, of Lexington, in the Kenton circuit court against the C. & O. railroad for $16,597.62 damages alleged to be due for failure on the part of the defendant company to deliver, according to contract, several hundred hogheads of tobacco sent from Covington to Rotterdam, Holland. The petition alleges that the tobacco was aurned over to the railroad company in June, July, August and September, 1915, and that it was held "an unusual and unreasonable time," at Newport News. The plaintiff avers that by reason of this delay he was required to pay more than $3,000 to the Bush Terminal company for storage, drayage and hauling and reexportage.

TEACHER CUTS OFF HALF OF THIS STORY

There is one family in a certain district in Madison county preparing to move. They are moving because of a Richmond young woman, school teacher, who is going to another school, and they are moving in order that their son and daughter may remain under the tuition of this teacher. "The children are just crying their eyes out," said the mother, "and we simply could do nothing with them, and decided to move. They are learning so fast and are so pleased with their teacher that I believe we would go to the coast, if necessary, in order to have her with them." The teacher was sought, and when apprised of the fact by a Daily Register reporter, blushing but steadfastly refused to give her name, admitting that she knew of the circumstance. When informed that her name was known (which is true) she said she detested notoriety, and that it then rested upon the honor of a newspaper. While reporters are variously classified, here is how we stand. Her name is Miss —

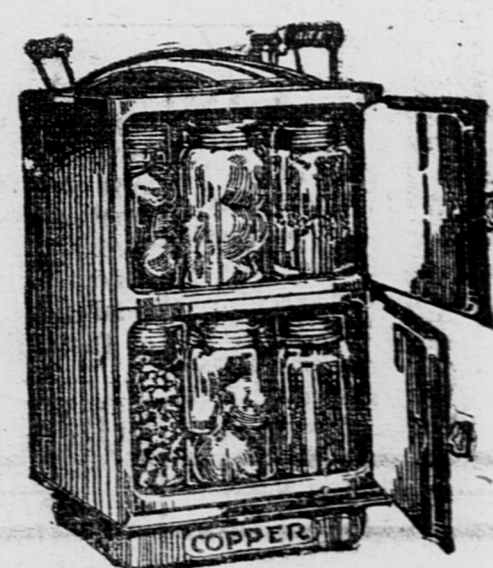

REFUSE TO GIVE UP KENTUCKY FLAG

Washington, July 13.—The State Department yesterday notified Senator Beckham that the Royal hospital at Chelsea, England, had refused to present the Kentucky state flag captured by the British in the war of 1812 to John Buchanan, Louisville, who was commissioned by the governor to return the flag to Kentucky. The advice was contained in a telegram received by the State Department from Ambassador Davis, who said that he had obtained the information informally and that he was sending a detailed report concerning the refusal to return the flag.

Canning Season Now On

Blackberry season is here, and with the recent rains and sunshine there will be more berries grown in this part of the country than there has been in years. The sugar situation is not as serious as it has been, and the people realize the wisest thing to do is to preserve all the fruit possible for the winter as indications point to even higher prices than last winter.

LET US MAKE YOUR CANING LABORS LIGHTER

We have a big supply of STEAM COOKERS—just the very thing to enable you to do your work faster, and avoid the heat of the cook stove these summer days. The STEAM COOKER makes canning season a pleasure. We have a special discount on our Cookers during the berry season.

THE RETURNED SOLDIER

The boy who has come back to the farm from the army has had a great experience. If he's been over to Europe he's come back overflowing with pride in the American way of doing things and particularly in American methods of farming.

When he was billeted in a small French village with the rest of his battalion he saw the crudest kind of farm implements used. He saw the back-breaking toil that is necessitated by the lack of modern farm equipment. And for the first time he has realized what it really meant to the American farmer, not only in the matter of comfort and leisure, but from the standpoint of production and the profit as well, to have American farm machinery to help with the work.

The army has taught him the value of living conveniences, too. When he first went to camp in this country he missed home-cooking and lots of the old-fashioned comforts he had always had. But he found something new—electric lights and running water. Wherever he went in camp—his own quarters, the Y. M. C. A., the camp

HOW AVOID LOSSES TO HOGS IN HOT WEATHER

To prevent losses to livestock, particularly hogs, in transit during hot weather, the livestock department of the Southern railway system has issued the following suggestions to all shippers with request that they be followed as closely as possible:
Haul or drive hogs to station in ample time to allow them to become rested and cool before loading.
When ordering a car for loading hogs, insist upon a clean one bedded with sand, clay or earth.
Wet thoroughly the bedding and interior of car before loading.
Give only a small feed of grain before shipping. Heavy feed means more body heat generated.
Load not more than one hour before the train is to depart.
Load slowly and carefully. Avoid excitement and do not beat or bruise the animals.
Load not to exceed 14,000 pounds fat hogs and 16,000 pounds stock hogs in a standard 36-foot car during the warm weather.
Have water applied to the bedding in the car at available points immediately after the train stops.
Use ice on floor of car whenever possible, three blocks to a car.
Report inattention or neglect at once to superintendent of division on which shipment originates.
Never throw water directly upon hogs after they become heated. Run it on floor of car under hogs instead.

The destruction of that $5,000 home you built a few years ago would lose to you the original cost, plus another $5,000. For it costs $10,000 now to build the $5,000 home of 1914.

PRODUCE SHORTAGE BEING INVESTIGATED

False Impression Said To Be Robbing Richmond of Fruits and Vegetables

There is said to be a scarcity of vegetables and general farm produce in Richmond, and the shipments from the county are becoming more extensive daily, according to reports, and the cause is bringing about an investigation upon the part of certain city officials who believe they are to be confronted with some interesting statistics soon.

The attention was first called to the situation through the general scarcity of produce and the extensive shipping from the county. It is said that at the small railway stations everything in the way of "eatables" is being sent away. One farmer named Powers, said he understood he had to have a license to sell his produce in Richmond, while he could take it to the railway station and dispose of it at market prices without further trouble or expense.

It develops that there is an impression, which is being widely accepted among the people of the county, that there is a license necessary to dispose of products of the garden and farm in the city. This is entirely erroneous, stated City Attorney Joe P. Chenault, whose attention has been called to the situation.

There is a wide distinction between the peddler and the man who is a resident of the county. The peddler is well defined in the law, while the same law holds that farm products are exempted from taxation. There are reports of various natures going the rounds relative to the scarcity of fruits and vegetables, and City Attorney Chenault invites any information regarding the subject. One man who stated the county was especially noted for the luscious peaches grown, added that he could not get anything of the kind on the market, and none were to be found in the city to his knowledge, although great quantities were being shipped away. This, it is said, is an illustration of the patronage of the city in his line by the average producer. They are aware of the fact that they can take their products to the nearest railway station and dispose of it at a fair price without worrying about coming to town or having to pay a license. There is absolutely no taxation or license whatever attached to the sale of fruits and vegetables grown by the people of Madison county in the city of Richmond.

JOHN E. WILSON TO PRACTICE LAW

John E. Wilson, of Kirksville, a recent graduate of the University of Chicago law school and former superintendent of schools at Hazard, has located at Hazard to practice law. He has formed a partnership with his brother, Grover C. Wilson, who has been practicing law there for almost two years. The law firm of Wilson and Wilson will be a successor to the law firm of Williams and Grace, the former having taken over the law offices, law library and the office furniture of the latter.

Mr. Grace, the junior member of the firm, died about a year ago, and Mr. Williams, the senior member, who is an elderly man, has retired from active practice.

Mr. Wilson graduated from the State University in 1913 with the A. B. degree; was superintendent of schools at Hazard for three years; then entered the University of Chicago law school and completed two years' work before entering the army and went back and completed his last year after peace was declared. Upon his entrance into the army he was sent to the officers' training camp and was commissioned a lieutenant of United States infantry, after which he graduated from a British bayonet school and a school of gas defense and in instruction work in bayonet fighting. Near the close of the war he was attached to and discharged from the 96th division. He is a brother of Corporal Gilbert Wilson, Corporal Hume Wilson and Lieutenant C. B. Wilson. While in college he was a member of the Patterson debating team for three years, being a member of the team that won for his society the silver loving cup given by Judge Henry S. Barker, of Louisville; was a member of his class football team; was glee leader of his class; a member of the Delta Chi fraternity at the University of Chicago. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Wilson.

ENDOWS AMERICAN CHAIR AT OXFORD

(By Associated Press)
London, July 15—Viscount Rothermere has given the University of Oxford 20,000 pounds for the establishment and endowment of a professorship of history of the United States of America, which will be known as the Harold Vyvyan Harmsworth Professorship of American History in memory of his son, Capt. Harold Vyvyan Harmsworth, of the Irish Guards, formerly a commoner of Christ Church, who was killed in the war.

Under the conditions of the endowment the holder of the professorship must at the time of his election be a citizen of the United States. He shall hold the professorship for ten years, and shall be eligible for appointment for another ten years.

The appointment shall be made by an electoral board consisting of the American ambassador at the time of the election, who shall have a casting vote, the chancellor of the university, an elector nominated by the university, and Lord Rothermere and each succeeding holder of the Viscounty.

REGISTRATION DAY SATURDAY, JULY 24

There will be a special registration at the office of County Clerk Jennings Maupin on Saturday, July 24, for men who have become of age since the last registration, enabling them to vote at the primary in August for the nomination of congressional candidates.

Women who will be eligible to vote in the presidential election in November will register on the regular registration date in October, they not being recognized in the special registration. The regular registration in October, which will be for both men and women, will record, it is believed, the heaviest in the history of the county, since there will be an immense addition as a result of the women being admitted.

Harry Spillman, well known tobacco raiser and dealer of Lexington, is dead.

NEW COMMITTEES FOR ELKS LODGE

Luther Powell, exalted ruler of the Richmond lodge of Elks, has appointed his committees for the ensuing term. They are made up of the following members:

House Committee—Green Clay, chairman; Dave Powers and Tom Reeves.

Sick and Relief—Elmer Deatherage, chairman; Van Berdon and Claude Sandlin.

Library—John Noland, chairman; McCreary Simmons and J. J. Greenleaf.

Past Exalted Ruler William O'Neil, who attended the national union at Chicago, says that a national hunting lodge and playground for the Elks was virtually assured when committee on the good of the order voted to recommend the acquiring of 20,000 acres of virgin land in the Cascade mountains near Bend, Ore.

Final action on the recommendation will be taken next year at the convention of the grand lodge in Los Angeles. In the interim the prospecting site will be inspected and reported upon by Irvin Cobb. He will make a 35-mile day trip through it this summer in company with Archibald Whisman, editor of the Bend Press.

A man in Detroit telephoned the police and told that "he and he alone" knew of the details of the death of Joseph B. Elwell, New York, and detectives are working on the clue.

AMERICANS MADE OF FOREIGN BORN

Little Clerk in Big Office Guides Applicants Through Legal Channels of Government

Some good American citizens, born abroad, are being made right here in the city of Richmond, and they are proving to be a loyal and enthusiastic lot, never failing to register and apply for their papers when the time sufficient to render them eligible has arrived. This is the case specially of one A. M. Waddell, of near Berea, where he has not only decided to remain but is desirous of being a genuine native of the U. S. A. and wants credentials to show it.

Hence his punctual visit to the office of the United States court, where he sought, in an eager fashion, characteristic to the Scot, to have his application for second papers filed. He explained to Clerk Miss Sara Monday that his time was up for "another degree," which the proficient and affable clerk found to be true, and her gracious explanation of the rules of Uncle Sam in adopting a new son were well received. Mr. Waddell's hearty approval of all requirements was marked by the gladness and hearty thanks bestowed upon the little clerk, upon he looked for aid, as he had received upon his first visit.

The Scot departed in high glee and will return later, according to the instructions, and the case will be one of several others to be taken up and heard at the next regular session of the United States district court.

"Most of the foreigners," stated Miss Monday, "who are now 'working' their way through the legal phase of citizenship are more than anxious to become citizens and are invariably exceedingly punctual regarding the various laws and requirements."

If their prediction relative to their good citizenship is equal to her knowledge of the affairs of the important office she holds, there is little question that they will henceforth develop and be recognized as industrious, respectable "Made-in-America" Americans.

The Rhoda Royal Enormous R. R. shows in all their magnificence and exalted grandeur will exhibit at Richmond on Tuesday, July 20, and precede both exhibitions with the grandest street parade ever seen since parades were first exploited. Those who have not seen the monster bovalapies pronounce it the greatest, the strangest and most unique marvel to which the deep ocean ever gave birth. The shaggy, fierce, though beautiful, horse riding lion, "Wallace," is par excellence the premier quadrupedal performer. The baby lions, four of a kind, infants of the forests, are a strange and lovely sight.

The menagerie will be a delightful study for all, because it comprises more wild, tame and strange beasts than our people have ever had an opportunity to see. The show is great in everything and small in nothing.

Columbus, Ohio, July 15.—Labor in general classifies James M. Cox, the Democratic nominee for president, as a "real friend." William Green, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America, asserted here after a conference with the governor. "The working man never forgets a real friend and my opinion is that the majority of labor believes Cox comes within that classification," Mr. Green said in reply to a question as to what labor thought of the Cox candidacy.

SUFFERS SUDDEN ILLNESS

Prof. W. B. Ward, in charge of the institute this week at the Eastern Normal, is suffering from a sudden illness which developed during Tuesday night and which prevented him from getting to the institute on time. He was found to have a very weak heart action by a physician who was hastily summoned to the Glyndon hotel, his headquarters, but soon recovered. Prof. Ward said this was the first affliction of this character he had ever experienced.

BIG ROADSTER BURNS

The handsome Cole-8 roadster belonging to Mr. M. J. Farris, III, was destroyed by fire on the Perryville pike just beyond the Blue Grass pike Tuesday afternoon. How the machine caught fire is not known. Mr. Farris and Mr. William Crouch, the mechanic, were driving toward town, when suddenly the car became enveloped in flames. They jumped to save themselves, leaving the car running. It ran against the fence and stopped. The machine was almost completely destroyed. Two tires in the rear were destroyed and the tires on the rear wheels were destroyed. The spokes were also burned out of the wheels and the aluminum steering wheel was melted. The machine was insured for $2,500, but was worth much in excess of that sum.—Danville Advocate.

BLUEGRASS QUANTITY BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

The total quantity of commercial Kentucky bluegrass seed that was harvested this year promises to be equal to or slightly greater than last year. Weather conditions during the past few weeks have been favorable for the setting and maturing of the seed. Stripping began around June 15 and the seed was of heavy weight and high germination.

ORIGINALITY AT COUNTY INSTITUTE

Besides Plenty of Pep, New Features, Good Music, and Lots of Interest

Wednesday, the third day of the Teachers' Institute, was marked by the introduction of a number of interesting subjects which were ably discussed, some excellent musical ideas, school government, and the regular program, through the clever management of Prof. Ward, was interspersed with a number of features that eliminated the monotony and rendered the sessions very interesting and instructive.

Dr. S. S. Myers, in charge of the music department, presided in his usual entertaining manner, injecting sufficient subtle humor to keep all his hearers at attention throughout his part of the program.

Prof. Roberts supplied Prof. Ward who, owing to illness, was unable to be in attendance at the chapel exercises. Upon the arrival of the latter, he reported that he had awakened up "dead" and that some time was required for resurrection. He presented a chart dealing with the course of study, which was taken up and discussed and amplified by both teacher and instructor.

The nature and explanation of the chart met with such marked approval that the instructor was asked to have a copy printed and this depicted the school spirit of Madison county, since the question of the building of a gymnasium.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that on or before the 19th day of July, 1920, bids will be received by the Board of Education of the city of Richmond, Kentucky, for building and repairs on the Madison High School property, for the installation of a heating plant and also for the building of a gymnasium.

Plans and specifications for all of said work are now in the hands of John Howard Payne, city superintendent of schools, at his office at the Madison High School and also at the office of John Noland, chairman of the Board of Education.

Plans and specifications have been so drawn that any bidder may bid upon all the work to be done or any part of same. All bids must be sealed and in the hands of John Howard Payne or Chairman Noland by 4 o'clock p. m. on July the 19th, 1920. The Board of Education reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Saved An Operation

MR. W. F. NELSON, a merchant of Hixon, Tenn., says: That the daughter of one of his neighbors, Mr. James Roberts, was in such a condition with female trouble that an operation was advised, and the young lady was sent to Chattanooga for its performance. She dreaded the operation, and STELLA VITAE having been recommended, decided to try that first. She has taken six bottles and is happily on the road to recovery. She is able to do her usual work and is in better health than for years before, but continues to use it. She writes: "STELLA VITAE will do all you claim." Her father says "She began to improve at once, after taking STELLA VITAE."

was put by County Superintendent Ben F. Edwards, of the Madison county schools, and a number of teachers. Further discussion of the chart will take place on Thursday. It simplifies the entire course of study and teaching and is considered both original and very valuable. Teachers are receiving much attention from the subject of rote songs, and are being introduced with unusual persistence and regularity.

During the afternoon the teachers were dismissed for a time, during which they retired to Roark Hall and enjoyed the pictures of the Kentucky Children's Home Society, so cleverly explained by Miss Brown, who is in charge of the work. The scenes are well arranged and the pictures lifelike and entertaining.

Miss Bessie Burrall delivered during the afternoon, another brilliant lecture on geography, denoting a thorough knowledge of this important work. She will remain throughout the week during which she will deliver a series of lectures. She has a personality that is unusual and appeals to all her hearers. There were a number of prominent visitors in attendance during the day.

Many students from Eastern Normal made their way to the building during the day and spent their leisure time there, greatly enjoying the program.

There were representatives of various educational societies in attendance, as well as many visitors from the city of Richmond.

The institute, while originally along many lines which are appreciated, it being conducted by Prof. Ward, right from the shoulder, without excuse or apology to any, and consists of grit, perseverance, a lot of pep and a wonderful knowledge of affairs pertaining to school, and a masterly way of introducing them.

Friday is Trustees' Day, and there will be a special program. The indications are that there will be a complete attendance both upon the part of the teachers and trustees upon that date, since it will mark the close of one of the most interesting and successful institutes ever conducted in Madison county.

AIRSHIPS DEPART ON EXTENSIVE TRIP

(By Associated Press)

Mincola, N. Y., July 15—Four army airplanes, comprising the Alaskan flying expedition, left the Mitchell Field, Long Island, at 12:33 this afternoon on a 9,000 mile round trip flight to Nome, Alaska, one of the longest and most difficult air trips ever attempted in the Western Hemisphere.

Brig. Gen. Wm. Mitchell, director of the army air service, gave the "take off" signal. Pilots were assured by government weather bureau that general weather conditions for the first 350 mile leg to Erie, Pa., would be good. From there the planes will fly to Grand Rapids, Mich. The remainder of the route lies along the northern border of the United States to Saskatoon, Canada, thence northward to Alaska. It is intended to establish an aerial route to Alaska for possible military usage.

"What's behind Us—Living singer or NEW EDISON?"

Don't you want to try this fascinating test of the New Edison's realism,—which caused distinguished psychologists to ask in amazement: "What's behind us, living singer or New Edison?"

Come in and hear Mr. Edison's Realism Test. See what sensations you'll get,—and determine for yourself whether listening to the New Edison produces the same emotions as listening to the living singer.

The three distinguished men of art and science in the picture are Dr. W. V. Bingham, Director of the Department of Applied Psychology, Carnegie Institute of Technology; Prof. C. H. Farnsworth, Director of the Department of Music, Teachers' College, Columbia University, and Wilson Foillett, Esq., noted author and music critic. They tried the Realism Test at the Edison Shop, New York. They found that it brought into play their whole capacity to feel and to enjoy. They got sensations that were vivid and unique.

The REALISM TEST

proved in this vital demonstration, before scientists of international repute, that it is an ideal way for you to judge the New Edison.

It tells you precisely how effective is the New Edison's realism,—and what this realism means in terms of your own musical enjoyment.

Please feel free to come in at any time, and make this unique experiment for yourself.

THE BUDGET PLAN regulates your "pleasure" expenditures so that you can buy your New Edison without squeezing your income. Ask about it.
